Nobilis consulting Group is an expert at integrating user experience design to achieve business objectives.

Services

We provide bespoke consulting services in the areas of management consulting, strategy consulting, program and project management, and human capital design. NCG consultants work with and partner with our clients to build and develop long-lasting value that meets end-user needs.

Case Study

BMO Harris Bank

BMO Harris Bank is a multinational US bank based in Chicago, IL and is a member of the Federal Reserve System with over $130 Billion in assets. The bank has over 15,000 employees and operates across 8 states in the Midwest region offering a variety of services and products to its retail and commercial clients.

Faced with increasing competition within the banking industry, BMO Harris Bank, traditionally a conservative organization, realized that it required an aggressive growth strategy to remain competitive. In order to successfully execute its strategy, the bank needed to engage a technology partner that had the experience and expertise in Digital Transformation.

BMO Harris bank turned to Nobilis Consulting Group to revitalize the culture and strategy of the organization. NCG embedded the practice of Agile Project Management across the organization and formalized it across enterprise business units through standing up the Agile Center of Excellence. Additionally, NCG managed and executed 12 mission critical projects valued at greater than $100 Million for BMO Harris Bank.

Given its success and trusted partnership with the bank, NCG was selected to lead BMO Harris Bank along its journey to develop and execute a customer centric digital strategy, process automation and platform modernization.

Nobilis Consulting Group helped BMO Harris Bank transform into a modern customer focused financial institution that makes data driven decisions with the customer at the center of everything it does. Through its deep partnership with the bank, NCG has embedded a culture of innovation and learning.
